

REPLAT

Guide to Replat of a Property

Background

A replat is a legal survey document that is recorded with the DeKalb County Recorder when changes are requested to a recorded plat. A replat typically modifies a lot(s) of a recorded subdivision by (1) splitting the lot(s) into two or more lots; or (2) adjusting lot lines or easements. A replat follows the same procedures as a Secondary Plat and eliminates the requirement for Primary Plat approval from the Plan Commission. A replat can be approved by the Building, Planning and Development Department provided the plat drawing complies with the requirements of the Unified Development Ordinance (UDO).

Definition

A replat is a modification to a recorded subdivision plat meeting the following requirements:

1. All lots included in the replat must have frontage on a public or private street established as part of a recorded subdivision.
2. No new street or private drive is proposed.
3. No public infrastructure is proposed.
4. The replat follows all the requirements of the UDO.
5. If a new lot(s) are to be created, each new lot, including any remnant part of the lot(s) being subdivided, must comply with all the requirements of the UDO.

Process

The Building, Planning and Development Department will decide whether a property is eligible to be subdivided under the replat process.

Applicants should contact the Department prior to filing an application for a replat. Applications for a replat can be submitted at any time to the Department.

When an application is accepted, staff reviews it for completeness and compliance with applicable plans and ordinances. The application and drawings are routed for review by City departments and other agencies. If review comments reflect revisions to the drawings are necessary, the applicant is contacted and asked to make the necessary revisions.

Decision

Once all review comments are adequately addressed, staff can approve and sign the replat for recording purposes.

An approved replat must be recorded within six months of the date of approval or the plat becomes null and void.

Timeline

- Complete application and plat drawing, including PDF and printed copies
- Plans distributed to Routing Committee for review
 - Routing Committee comments provided to applicant
 - No deadline to submit revised plans
- Revised plans submitted
- Revised plans distributed to Routing Committee for review
 - If no additional routing committee comments that need addressed, replat can be approved by City Staff
